Living Countryside awards 2021

These awards are a chance to celebrate and recognise the people and projects that are benefiting our county's rural environment and urban greenspaces.

Promoting

This year's awards will put the spotlight on local businesses and organisations, celebrating those projects that are surviving and thriving despite the challenges of Covid-19.

Connecting

We will bring nominees together to share their experience and knowledge as well as giving them the opportunity to showcase their work.

Inspiring

The stories from the awards will be used to inspire others to engage with local projects or develop their own ideas.

The 2021 Living Countryside Awards will, for the first time, be digital – meaning more people than ever before can access them. Nominees will be brought together without the need for travel and the public will be able to learn more about all the projects via social media and our website.
